

Forest and Outdoor Learning Awards (FOLA) FAQs

The Award

Q: Who is the awarding body?

A: Newbattle Abbey College, near Edinburgh, is supporting this qualification as part of their Forest College and the awards are accredited to the Scottish Credit and Qualifications Framework (SCQF).

Q: Is this still a Forest School award?

A: Yes, the award you receive at the end will still be recognised as a Forest School award, although it will be called a Forest and Outdoor Learning Award.

Q: Will this Scottish qualification be recognised by employers?

A: We have worked closely with Forest School Association to ensure this award is recognised by them as a valid Forest School award. The FSA is the industry professional body for quality and standardisation in the UK so there is no reason why any employer wouldn't.

These Scottish Qualifications Authority (SQA) website pages help to explain this: SCQF Scottish Credit and Qualifications Framework \(SCQF\) (pdf) and Frameworks in England and Wales (pdf)

Q: What are these qualification levels equivalent to within the UK & Ireland?

A: This SQA document compares them: Qualifications Can Cross Boundaries (pdf)

Q: How do these new qualifications relate to the OCN or other FSA-recognised Forest School qualifications?

A: Level 1 (introduction) = FOLA Level 5; Level 2 (assistant) = FOLA Level 6; Level 3 (leader) = FOLA Level 8.

Q: What is the difference between Forest School award and FOLA?

A: As well as being tailored more in line with the Scottish curriculum, the leadership modules are slightly more in-depth, plus it has an additional section on legal compliance.

The Course

Q: How many days of the taught course is required in total to complete Level 5, 6 or 8 in the FOLA course?

A: Level 5 (introduction) = total 3-days; Level 6 (assistant) = total 5-days; Level 8 (leader) = total 10-days. There will be additional self-study or assessments required to reach each level, whether that be written coursework, observations or delivery of sessions.

Q: How long does it take to finish the Level 8 qualification?

A: That depends upon you and your individual circumstances. Most people are able to complete their coursework and deliver their 8 Forest School sessions with their group of learners within about 12-months of the end of their taught course. Some people have completed it within 6-months, whereas others take longer.
